GRADUATION CEREMONY

ISCA celebrated the work and achievements of graduating students at a special ceremony in May. A record 100% of this year's students have achieved multiple offers at some of the top art and design institutions in the country. Jane Fu, John Aydin, Ethan Yip and Claudia Lim spoke on behalf of all students to thank staff who have supported them throughout their studies. Family members and guests were invited to view the special end of year show over drinks and canapes. ISCA wishes each and every student continued success as they take up their well-deserved university places.

SCHOLARSHIP PRIZES

During the graduation ceremony, generous ISCA scholarships were awarded to five students who have proved themselves in their first year of study. ISCA's Executive Director Colin Kerrigan and special guest Anthea Godfry handed out the scholarships to Valeriya Lyubkina for academic excellence in art and design, Wing Chi for extraordinary studio-based practice, Dingning Hu for excellent visual literacy, and Prem Tangtrongwattana for exceptional endeavour. Mely Montemayor Ayala was awarded the ISCA Ambassador Scholarship for her outstanding contribution to the school. Congratulations to all!

CANADIAN UNIVERSITIES

Admissions tutors from two of the leading art and design universities in Canada joined forces to visit ISCA earlier this month. Emily Carr University of Art & Design in Vancouver and OCAD University in Toronto presented their undergraduate programmes and talked about student life, study incentives, graduate prospects and portfolio expectations.

ISCA SUMMER PROGRAMME

There are just a few places remaining on this year's ISCA Summer Programme, which introduces young aspiring designers to the creative arts and the development of core skills. Through specialist workshops and visits to some of London's greatest art galleries and landmarks, students will deepen their understanding of the art and design world.
