

Congratulations to the Year 2 students who have successfully completed the Creative Learning and Skills Programme at University of the Arts London. ISCA students have the special opportunity to study CLASP during their second year at ISCA, alongside their A Level programme. By passing CLASP, students have the opportunity to progress to Foundation Plus at Central Saint Martins in summer 2020.

We are delighted to welcome back three of our alumni who have returned to ISCA two years after graduating to provide progression-orientated support sessions to year 2 students. Trish and Ruth Phng and Natasha Makins are sharing their specialist skills, honed through their degree studies at the London College of Communication, to help students realise images through various digital platforms, enhance work through screen-printing techniques and refine photographic skills through photomedia workshops.

Students who joined the 2020 Preliminary Programme in January have made a truly enthusiastic start to their creative studies. The focus has been on developing drawing skills through line, tone and texture using a range of different media. They have also explored the formal elements through positive, negative space and perspective and investigated different printing techniques inspired by the work of Paul Cezanne and Georgia O'Keefe.

The Year 2 students organised a surprise tea party last week to thank tutors for the support they have given during the portfolio preparation period. It was a time to relax and celebrate the university offers that have started coming in. Student Representative Valeriya Lyubkina gave a short speech of thanks which was followed by a few words from Head of Art & Design Lisa Stewart who said students had worked exceptionally hard to achieve a high standard of work.
